

Behavioral change programs for leaders who've seen it all before.

High-stakes simulations that recalibrate decision-making, execution, and leadership under pressure.

Who We Are

Founded by a former U.S. intelligence officer with a deep background in psychology and leadership under pressure, Team Results was built to address a simple reality: most senior leaders are skeptical of training. And they're right to be.

Our work focuses on how people actually behave when decisions matter, not how they say they'll behave afterward.

What We Do

We change behavior.

We work with leaders and teams who know they're capable, but need sharper execution, better decisions under pressure, and more consistent follow-through when it matters most.

How We Do It

Simulation. Rehearsal. Feedback.

- 1 Scenario
- 2 Decision
- 3 Consequence
- 4 Feedback
